Students of North Central:

Moccasins, the traditional footwear of the American Indian, took their wearers down many paths — to victories as well as defeats — to joys as well as sorrows. They could have told many tales of the events that marked their days.

Like these moccasins, the Tamarack tells of the triumphs, humorous moments and special events that are very much a part of each North Central Indian's school year.

Moccasined feet leisurely followed their chief through the forests and across the plains. The chief was selected for his ability and wisdom as a leader, and it was he who determined the punishments.

And as shoe-shod modern man beats a faster pace year by year, it is his leader's duty to teach the values of this short space of time we call life.

Mrs. Helen Oscarson-

Pictured above is Mrs. Helen Oscarson, wife of Mr. Roger O. Oscarson, former mining engineer and employee of the Department of the Interior of the U.S. Government. Mrs. Oscarson, Latin and French teacher, retires this year from the North Central staff, and plans on spending more time with her husband and their two daughters, Mrs. Lorenzo Gonzales of Upland, California, and Linda Suzie Oscarson of Spokane. Mrs. Oscarson is also the proud grandmother of Lisa Gonzales, three, and Larry, one.

Mrs. Oscarson attended Willamette University, Salem, Oregon, her freshman and sophomore years, and received her B.A. degree with a major in French, and minor in Latin from the University of Oregon, Eugene, Oregon.

She then attended the University of Grenoble, Grenoble, Isère, France, receiving the certificate d' Etudes Françaises. From there she went to the University of the Sorbonne, Paris, France, School of Phonetics.

An inspiring teacher, Mrs. Oscarson exemplifies H. B. Adams' famous quotation: "A teacher affects eternity: He can never tell where his influence stops."

Who Typifies North Central's Teaching Traditions

Superintendent Ayars Sets Year's Pace

Dr. Albert Lee Ayars

Efficient operation of Spokane's educational system was the result of frequent meetings of the principals and administrators of the city's schools.

School District 81 had a new chief executive this year, Dr. Albert Lee Ayars. Among his responsibilities is the task of carrying out all policy-making decisions of the board. Plans for improvement, maintenance, or expansion of the buildings, sites and facilities are also under the supervision of Dr. Ayars.

The School Board has general legislative duties, establishes policies, adopts and provides for enforcement of rules and determines how the district is run. Specific obligations of the board are also to employ a city superintendent, one or more assistants to him, principals, supervisors, teachers, janitors and other personnel to help the schools function smoothly. By state regulations, they are also to prevent secret sororities and fraternities from operating among the students in Spokane schools.

Textbooks, audio visual aids, and other essential supplies to aid teachers are also provided by the board.

Members of Spokane's School Board have for many years given their time and energy to maintain fine schools. They serve without reward other than the satisfaction that they receive from contributing to the success and happiness of succeeding generations.

Dr. Ayars stated that the primary purpose of education is to aid people in leading happy and successful lives.

Meeting in regular session are District 81 Board of Directors: H. Avery Peyton, George R. Nethercutt, William Gordon Luscher, Byron L. Swanson, Helen Hazen Rymond, and Dr. Albert Lee Ayars, superintendent.

Seen discussing school affairs are Mr. Rodkey, Principal, and Mr. Anker, Vice-Principal.

Administration Sets Pace for School

"Success comes to people who are not considering the narrow question of what they are paid for, but the broad question of what they can do to be helpful. It is that attitude which leads to the promotion of the individual, the profit of the business and the prosperity of that nation."

So wrote Calvin Coolidge many years ago. Success is a most difficult term to define. Perhaps one of the most successful men of our time was Dr. Albert Schweitzer, philosopher, musician, physician, missionary, humanitarian. To some, his efforts were a waste of time. But to others, who have studied his background, here was a man who will be remembered for many years because of his devotion, dedication, and kindness to humankind.

It would be a great thing, indeed, if all of us gave closer attention to our abilities and interests and channeled our efforts in the great cause of mankind. No greater reward can be reached than a selfless devotion to such great causes. As graduating seniors leave our company, we will be watching with eagerness and interest the future achievements of each one as he takes his place in society. We will miss you, but we will also cherish the memory of your years at North Central and the friendships which were made. Congratulations from all of the staff for your fine achievements. North Central is a little richer because you were here!

Deans', College Counselors', and Nurse's Work

Advising students is the main job of Mr. Mhyre, Dean of Boys, and Mrs. Butterfield, Dean of Girls.

Responsibility to counsel in personal, vocational and educational problems is the task assigned to the Dean of Boys and the Dean of Girls. They encourage boys and girls to help themselves and solve their problems.

Students who have passed through the deans' offices are familiar with the concern and sympathy that Patricia Butterfield and Kenneth Mhyre extend.

Dean of Girls, Patricia Butterfield, helps the girls of North Central with their social and emotional problems, as well as their academic problems. She has helped many a girl to find an after-school and summer job.

Mrs. Butterfield's objective is helping the individual adjust to life around them for she is very interested in the youth of today.

Dean of Boys, Kenneth Mhyre, besides counseling North Central's boys, assists the vice-principal in scheduling problems, speaks to students who have academic problems, and issues transfers and early dismissals. Mr. Mhyre's accomplishments can be seen through the outstanding graduates of North Central who have achieved recognition in society.

These deans certainly deserve a hearty thanks from students and parents. Many long and filled hours were spent trying to help a student or to better North Central.

Mrs. Backenstoe and Mr. Mhyre answer the many questions brought to the Student Office.

s Necessary Part of Student Life

College counselor, Lorraine McNew, helps to guide North Central's seniors in planning future education. To make planning easier, she gathers various information from many colleges and universities. Seniors planning to further their education are often required to take several tests which are also provided by the college counselor.

North Central's school nurse, Anita Swanson, even with her busy schedule, has kept accurate and up to date health records on each student. Though she was not available every day, she was always ready to advise or assist any student with broken arms, headaches, sprains, or just colds. Cots in the room next to her office are often occupied by ailing students.

School supplies from folders and erasers to compasses and note cards can be purchased in the bookroom at reduced prices. Students can also work in the bookroom under the direction of the bookroom clerk, Mrs. Wayland. The lost-and-found department is located in the bookroom. All textbooks are checked in and out and mended here also.

Selling school supplies is one of the jobs which Mrs. Wayland, bookroom clerk, does daily.

Mrs. Swanson, the school nurse, tends to student ills.

Consulting college catalogues are Mrs. McNew and Mr. Hagen, student advisors.

Those who plan on entering the business world after graduation find business courses and vocational education at North Central especially useful. They are also helpful while still in high school. Skills that are taught in business classes prove valuable in college and future vocations.

Two-year courses in typing, shorthand and bookkeeping are offered to all students. One year classes of office practice and distributive education are usually restricted to seniors.

North Central's foreign language classes teach students the ability to communicate effectively in languages other than English. Through foreign languages the student learns about new customs and new people.

The audio-lingual methods have advanced so that now tape-recordings, records and films have become key tools in the study of foreign languages. Four years of Latin and German and three years of Spanish and French are available to students at North Central.

Students who are now struggling to conjugate verbs may one day help to bring world peace through world understanding.

Art, Music, PE Develop Individual Talents

Expression is one of the most basic desires of man. In high school, art and music courses are designed to allow the student to express this desire.

The Art Department emphasizes techniques and skills. Basic principles of design and colors are learned by students, and later they specialize in phases such as fashion design, crafts and oil painting. To help students develop their artistic abilities, courses in basic art, lettering, drawing, architecture, painting and senior studio are offered.

Decorations for special events, publicity of school activities, and stage settings for plays and pep cons were directed or created by the Art Department.

Providing students with an enduring basis of enjoyment and pleasure and great appreciation for musical expression is the main goal of the Music Department. North Central's band and choral groups have repeatedly won high ratings in competition. The ACappella choir, a select group, was privileged this year to perform in Curtis High School, Tacoma, Washington. North Central's concert and marching bands have also been guests at various parades in the state.

Students enrolled in Physical Education classes are aware of the variety of activities and opportunities which are available. The department functions with the thought that a healthy mind works best in a healthy body. By combining co-ordination and sportsmanship, a better, more well-rounded individual is made.

Homemaking, Industrial Arts Prove Practical

An increasing number of mothers are assuming the dual role of homemaker-career woman and it is important for girls, while in high school, to develop a greater proficiency of homemaking skills. The girls are given an excellent chance to receive this training in cookery and sewing classes. The girls also must have an understanding of human relationships that will help them to raise their children properly and provide for a happy, stable, and satisfying home for the whole family. Instruction in this area is offered in classes such as child development and social relations.

All girls are required to take two credits in some homemaking courses. Up to two years in any subject are available.

Learning useful skills and those important to future vocations is the main objective of the boys who engage themselves in industrial arts classes. The courses taught are designed to help the boys to be well rounded in such arts and able to do more things, such as household repairs, themselves.

In auto shop, a class which most boys are interested in, proves valuable to those with cars, and will probably help them to save money in the future.

Wood, metal, auto, and electronics shops and vocational metal and mechanical drawing are offered to the male students of North Central, above the ninth grade.

Math and Science Challenge Students

Science, ever-changing, challenges each student to seek the answers to questions that are instrumental in the advance of our society. The scientific method of thought provides a means by which these questions may be answered.

At North Central students are offered several science classes. Physical science is offered to freshmen, and sophomores may take biology, which proves to be an exciting as well as an educational course. Many juniors and seniors make successful attempts at passing chemistry while still others enjoy physics. Students are now experiencing more freedom in science classes, freedom to think and develop ideas and learn through frequent inquiries.

The world of science today is in a constant state of flux. Every day new advances are made. It is imperative that we depend less upon factual and technological aspects of science. Inquiry and curiosity are the keys to the future.

Mathematics, as an excellent human achievement, offers satisfactions and aesthetic values equal to those offered by any other branch of our culture.

Although students are not required to take a math course above their freshman year, the ones that choose to continue find math courses stimulating and intriguing. All math courses are a challenge and of great value to students who intend to take physics or chemistry.

In today's troubled world, the importance of cultural study within one's country cannot be overlooked, nor can it be understated. The keynote of all history study can be summed up in the statement: "He who knows the past understands the present; and he who has an understanding of the present has the key to the future."

Four years of study are now required for all students. Freshmen are required to take Washington History and World Geography. Sophomores must take World History and the following year, United States History. A new system of contemporary world problems, economics, and government are courses available to seniors on a nine-week basis.

Economics is the science that deals with the production, distribution and consumption of wealth, and with the various related problems of labor, finance and taxation.

Government is a tool devised by man to enable him to live the best possible life and when it is no longer able to meet his needs, it should be changed.

Sociology is the study of the development, organization, and problems of society and social groups. This has proved to be one of the most popular history classes at North Central. This course is designed to help the students better understand themselves, their fellow man and their environment.

as Life Preparation

In the English Department we strive to present to the students something fresh and new in the study of language, composition, and literature. In each area we try to bring into the classroom the ideas and methods that have been developed from the extensive and intensive study of language during the past thirty years.

All students must take the first six semesters of English. In addition, students who have completed six semesters of English may enroll in Senior Composition and Senior Literature. These courses are practically "musts" for students who will attend college. The department also offers two English classes on the senior level for those students who are not interested in going to college, but who feel the need of additional practice in communication skills and who enjoy reading.

Journalism, a one-semester subject, provides rich opportunities for a practical application of the training learned. Students soon recognize the responsibilities of staff positions, as well as the seriousness of meeting deadlines.

Speech and Drama offer both pleasure and practical training. Speech covers the general field of public speaking and prepares the student to meet the requirements of public appearance. Drama I members study stage technique, acting, and make-up. In addition to public presentations, second semester drama students make an in depth study of the history of drama.

Making NC Fun Is Job of Office

Money for football tickets, basketball and wrestling tickets, money for dance tickets, money for concert tickets, and yes, even money for fees will be pleasantly received by the personnel of the business office. The efficient staff workers keep accurate and detailed accounts of fees and records of school clubs.

The public office is the center of school business and receives visitors. Here each teacher must check in and out every day. They also collect their mail and attend to other necessary business.

Every student, at some time or another during his high school years, enters the student office. Some are tardy, some return from absences, others are seeking guidance and counselling. Students who require disciplinary action are usually in the student office more than once. The secretaries and student helpers here keep a daily attendance record, too.

Need to study? North Central has a very adequate and up-to-date library. Students can find many kinds of magazines, a variety of vocational information, and of course, many, many books.

Busy in daily routine are Mrs. Klierer and Mrs. Conrath of the Public Office.

Preparing and serving nourishing, attractive, yet low cost hot lunches is one task assigned to the cafeteria personnel. The meals are well-balanced to give growing teenagers the nutrition they need to be active each day, all day. The snack bar is a supplement to the hot lunch program and is used frequently by those who bring a lunch from home. The hot sandwich line, just recently created, offers a slightly different main course, but is still a hot lunch.

The staff works continually, and the cafeteria is bustling almost any time of day.

Shortly after school ends for the day, the custodians can be seen restoring order to the halls and classrooms of North Central. Pushing large trash containers, cleaning blackboards, dusting and sweeping keep them busy.

They are also responsible for the heating in the main building, in band and choir rooms, and the boys' gym. All necessary repairs are made promptly and many burnt out lights are replaced. Maintaining the exterior also takes many hours of work.

Senior Homeroom Teachers Advise Graduates

Mr. Orval Theisen

Mr. Orval Theisen, chairman of the senior class homeroom teachers, has successfully led the class of 1966 in its many senior activities. The other teachers have assisted him by taking the responsibilities of various senior functions.

Students turn to their homeroom teacher for guidance, counseling, and friendship. A homeroom teacher's job is more than just reading the bulletin and signing the attendance slip. Accurate records of grades, extra-curricular activities, test scores and attendance must be kept by the teacher for each student. From this information many letters of recommendation are compiled in years to come and oftentimes the record itself is studied by future employers as well as college officials. Therefore the homeroom teacher who keeps these records feels a deep personal responsibility for the student under his direct guidance. The homeroom thus literally becomes "the school home" of the student during his years at North Central, and the teacher becomes his confidant in times of trouble, and intermediary in times of misunderstanding, a source of encouragement in times of doubt.

HIGHLIGHT OF THE YEAR

Thank You

This day has ended,
How absolute and omnipotent is the silence of the night.
But there are new horizons and worlds to conquer;
Our senior year is finished.
Where now—what paths do we take?
Youth is the opportunity to do something,

And our opportunities are given to us by God, our nation, our state, and our city.
Home, home — crowded, massive, throbbing with life —
Our beloved city.
Here live the dreams and memories of our high school days.

sses classes

classes

In ages past, moccasin-shcathed feet trod the paths of the forest where knowledge of woodcraft and an uncanny skill in reading the signs of nature were necessary for survival.

Now through education we are learning skills and mutual understanding so that mankind itself might survive.

JR. Participating in a car wash to earn money for the junior class are Barb Hosea, Jim Swan, Audrey Brooks, an eager Gonzaga Prep helper, Dayleann Stevenson, Don Morse, Bill Arnold, and John Litten.

Junior Class Prepares to Accept Leadership

Class Advisor

Dick Engstrom
President

Juniors, the ones who don't know that they know. Throughout the year the juniors learned to be the leaders of North Central. Each of the homerooms chose a representative to be a part of the Junior Council, with Gregory Sanford as the class advisor. At the council meeting, nominations were taken for class officers. Dick Engstrom, president; Mike Hume, vice president; Peggy Hansen, secretary; and Bonnie Remmers, treasurer, were chosen by the class. Planning and organizing committees for the Junior Prom kept them busy. The Prom, which was held in the old gym, had the theme of "Paris by Night."

A new way of raising money for the Junior Prom was introduced this year. A Prom queen was chosen from five candidates, Pam Rieco, Linda Nicholson, Kathy Bullis, Marilyn Pasiecznyk, and Sally Piekens. The girls received their votes in the form of pennies. The girl whose jar had the most pennies in it won the election. Each vote cost one penny.

Junior English classes were busy preparing vocational notebooks to help them learn more about a future occupation for themselves. Chemistry was also a popular subject among the juniors, who enjoyed the strange odors and reactions they got from some of the experiments performed in the classroom.

Sophomores Enthusiastic

Sophomores, the ones who know they don't know. One couldn't find a better description of our industrious Sophomore class.

With new enthusiasm, they began to realize how much was offered at North Central. Soon many sophomores were entering clubs and school activities. This class, the largest in North Central, was a big encouragement to all at every sport and school activity.

With a wider choice of electives, they began to select courses that would help them with future responsibilities and vocations. Many took courses suggested for college-bound students such as geometry, chemistry and a foreign language. Others signed up for business courses like typing, bookkeeping and shorthand.

Geometry is a required course for many sophomores who plan to enter college. Its reward in study is a greater ability to do creative thinking and to make original problem solutions.

World History, another sophomore subject, alerts the student to the problems man has faced and how he did or did not solve them—thus educating the student to learn from the past to better prepare for the present.

Posing in the old gym after an energetic practice are Sophomore cheerleaders Janet Daves, Susie Northquist, Joan Davey, Mikki Pasicznyk and Cheryl Rayon.

Sophomore English placed an emphasis on oral expression with six weeks spent on preparing and delivering speeches before fellow students. Judged on preparation, contents and delivery by both peers and teacher, students soon improved greatly in oral expression.

In either case, the once bewildered and carefree freshman realized that special efforts must be made for the reward of satisfaction.

Even bug hunting in biology proved helpful to the Sophomore by teaching him patience and perseverance. Anyone who has tried to catch a butterfly or a grasshopper knows what this means.

After an exhausting, exciting and memorable year, one considered by many as the roughest in high school, the Sophomore emerged as an upper classman and a leader.

Freshman Spirit Great

Freshmen, the ones who know they don't know. This statement sums up the true bewilderment which was a major characteristic of every freshman that wandered through North Central. Being completely new to customs, rules and crowded halls, the freshmen were often the cause of hall congestion, the disorganized cafeteria lines and the nearly hysteric freshman teachers seen muttering over their tardy sheets.

The hope of some day becoming an upper classman, a leader, and something besides a freshman spurred them on in spite of all the embarrassing and difficult situations they encountered.

But, given a little time, the freshmen began to settle down and take a firm grip on their classes and soon were out rooting for the team at nearly every sports event. A great deal of their discipline and enthusiasm was due to the interest and concern of their homeroom teachers. Soon classes became settled, and the newcomers showed interest in their subjects, putting smiles back on their teachers' faces.

Freshman Year Trying

Because all but one of their courses were chosen for them, the freshmen looked forward to the coming "growing up" years, when they could determine for themselves what classes they wanted. In their only elective, many freshmen chose either music courses or typing to brighten their day and make their load seem lighter.

At the end of a trying, exciting, busy, and studious year, the little freshmen proved their capability of being sophomores. This experience prepared them for the rest of high school and the future beyond.

"Now I get it!" exclaims an algebra student to his instructor.

Fall ASB Collects Books

The Associated Student Body, during the fall semester, sponsored many varied activities in order to acquaint the students of North Central with their school.

The first Friday of the 1965-1966 school year, September 10, was featured by an ASB Get-Acquainted Mixer. The following week, September 13-17, was HELLO WEEK.

On October 1, the ASB Carnival was held. The ASB took charge of the jail. The carnival was supported by the present students and the alumni of North Central.

Robin Brockway was chosen as Football Queen at the third annual Football Festival on October 15. Sally Meranda and Donna Newberg were chosen as her princesses. This event was a grand success.

The ASB Thanksgiving Con was held on November 24. The program was centered around a musical presentation by the A Cappella Choir, called "I Am An American."

"Sleigh Bells" was the theme of the ASB Christmas date dance. It was held on December 10, with "Candy and the Casuals" playing.

Co-recreation nights were held on November 29 and 30 and on January 10 and 11. The ASB also sponsored a paperback book drive to send to boys in Viet Nam.

"Gee, the floor's crowded." "Isn't the tree huge?" These were some of the comments at the ASB Christmas Dance.

Pausing for a few moments, Mr. Kenneth Mhyre poses with the Fall ASB officers, Russ Oslund, Bruce Wald, Robin Brockway, Randy Thompson and Donna Revard.

Mixer Given by Spring ASB

During the spring semester, the Associated Student Body sponsored various activities.

On Friday, March 11, the ASB Mixer was held which was enjoyed by all who attended.

More pep cons were presented to the student body by the Pep Committee. Although there were fewer than in the fall semester, they brought recognition to the spring sports' teams.

The Teen-Talk Committee made further plans for a patriotic con.

The Landscaping Committee made additional plans for beautifying our school grounds. Further plans were made for the football scoreboard.

On May 19, the North Central Student Body cast their votes in the ASB General Election.

Cons to introduce new students to our school were held on May 31 and June 1.

Chuck Wilkerson
Fifth Executive

Cathy Pesik, Gwen Furgeson, and Gael Shellenberger stop while signing up for spring semester ASB activities.

Rick Giampietri accepts the original version of Shadle's water tower from Russ Oslund. The original tower is red and black, while Shadle's copy is green and gold.

Fall Senate

Fall Senators were Pam Bowcutt, Tim Burchett, Cheryl Rayon, Wayne Reida, Pam Nakagawa, and Dan Mitchell.

The North Central Senate was made up of one girl and one boy from each class level. All issues pertaining to school affairs were first approved by the Senate before presented to the House of Representatives.

North Central, the last remaining school with a bicameral legislature, voted in January to adopt the unicameral form of government. Thus the fall Senators of 1965 were the last at North Central.

House of Representatives

An elected member of each homeroom met each Wednesday morning in the cafeteria to conduct business in the House of Representatives. All issues concerning the students of North Central are brought before this body. On Wednesday mornings lively discussions could be heard with many representatives taking an active part in our school government.

Rick Giampietri is shown conducting a House of Representatives' meeting.

Twinlow

The fall presidents of ASB and Girls' League, Russ Oslund and Karin Compton, were chosen to represent North Central at Twinlow. Students from all over the state met on the lower Twin Lake in Idaho to discuss and learn about leadership and organization.

Trying to get a ride to Twinlow, Russ Oslund and Karen Compton seem to be traveling light.

"We're going to Ellensburg representing North Central." Donna Revard and Terry Starr are shown leaving for Girls' State.

Girls' State

Learning the meaning and use of democratic forms of American government is the purpose of Girls' State Leadership camp. Terry Starr and Donna Revard returned to North Central full of enthusiasm and with a better knowledge of leadership.

Cities were organized and Terry Starr was elected mayor of a "port city." A State Legislator was chosen along with all types and levels of leadership which were studied.

Boys' State

Mike Johnson, Jim Seedorf, and Mike Wickstead represented North Central at Boys' State last summer. Chosen from the Junior class, these school leaders learned about the responsibilities and privileges of an American citizen and the actual working of the government.

"We're off! Let's get these pictures over with so we can be on our way to Boys' State," seems to be the common cry of Mike Wickstead, Mike Johnson, and Jim Seedorf.

"Dogpatch Doin's"

New and old met at the Girls' League Big-Little Sister Party held on September 2. Following a sack lunch, the girls enjoyed entertainment in the auditorium and then a tour of our school.

The girls entertained their fathers at the Dad-Daughter Dessert on October 13. The theme this year, "To Dad With Love", was carried out as an international idea with the decorations, programs, and entertainment.

Dogpatch Doin's, the annual Girls' League girl-ask-boy dance, was held on November 12. It was one of the largest crowds in years.

A clothes drive was sponsored by the girls of North Central along with selling ASB stationery.

The Santa Claus pictures were enjoyed again this year by all girls with the five "Santas", Rick Giampietri, Bill Caruso, Mike Magers, Dave Neff, and Russ Oslund.

Karen Compton (with back to camera) gives Gail Coyte the Girls' League gavel as Marilyn Rail and Laura Coyte look on during the Girls' League Installation Con.

Discussing activities for Girls' League are Mrs. Murray, Mrs. McCarthy, Mrs. Eddy, and Mrs. Stilson.

Sunshine Committee Is Started

In the spring semester, the first activities for the Girls' League were the Spring Style Show, Cotton Day Dance, and Cotton Day held on April 1. Girls modeled clothes in the style show. Following the theme "April Showers," the girls wore outfits made of cotton to start the spring season. The Cotton Day Dance was boy-ask-girl or girl-ask-boy and the theme was "Jester's Night Out."

Collecting "Pennies-for-Hans" for needy families and making favors for nursing homes were functions of the Easter Project Committee. The Martha Committee made visits to Lakeland Village and sent gifts and cards.

Held on May 11 at 7:30 p.m. was the Mother-Daughter Tea.

The Sunshine Committee, a new project, sent cards, greetings, and appropriate gifts for illness and death in the school. They also sent congratulations to wrestlers and other spring athletes.

Correspondence was renewed with our sister high school, Nishinomiya, in our sister city of the same name. Throughout the semester, the officers exchanged greeting cards with other high schools, on special days and holidays. They also made tags for teachers and cadets. Continuing a tradition, the Girls' League officers wore matching outfits again this semester.

Serving the North Central girls for two continuous years is the Points Committee, left to right, Gayle Northcutt, Peggy Henning, and Audrey Brooks.

Busy with preparations for the Girls' League Style Show are Cathy Pesik, Marie Wold, Martha Kilmer, Elaine Rounds, Jan Littell, Audrey Brooks, Carol Austed, and Rosemary Goerz.

January

For being the most courteous, Phyllis Heise was the January Girl of the Month.

December

Danelle Davies was chosen December Girl of the Month for her sincere personality.

"Girl of the Month"

The Girls' League officers continued the selection of a Girl of the Month this past year. In its third year, this award was initiated to show the League's appreciation for the hard work of many girls. Awarded each month for definite reasons, it is a great honor to wear the long necklace with the Girls' League emblem.

A committee consisting of one member per club selected the first four girls; then Central Council took over the sometimes hard job of narrowing the selection down to one girl.

November

Sue Richards was the November Girl of the Month. She was chosen for her long hours of work as general chairman of the Dad-Daughter Dessert.

October

Betty Peters, October Girl of the Month, was chosen for excellent work as general chairman of the Big-Little Sister party.

Maryl Sandberg, Girl of the Month for February, was chosen as the most school-spirited.

Month'' Is Chosen

Wearing the Girls' League necklace is an honor for any girl.

Opening the door to welcome all is Donna Newberg, the March Girl of the Month. She was chosen as the most cheerful girl at NC.

Peggy Hansen, sliding down the railing, was selected May Girl of the Month for having the best sense of humor.

Pam Riccio, April Girl of the Month, was chosen as most feminine.

'66 Tamarack Staff

Terry Starr
Business Manager

Preparation for the 1966 Tamarack started early in June, 1965, with the selection of Tamarack Staff members. Several meetings were held before the school year was finished and other gatherings concerning cover, color, and theme were held during the summer with staff assignments given in early August.

Many spare summer hours were spent soliciting advertising from Spokane businessmen. Staff members were given sales' tips and a free rein to gather as much advertising as possible.

For the first time, the North Central Tamarack was printed by R. Wallace Pischel, Inc., of Pasco, Washington. The Staff made a trip to Pasco on November 12 just before their first deadline to learn more about journalism and book printing. Another trip was made for final proofreading in early April.

On October 15, the annual Tamarack Con was presented to advertise the sale of the 1966 North Central Tamarack. With the help of the News Staff, Tamarack sales began in the homerooms the following week.

finishes in a Flourish

Layouts of each section to be approved by the managing editor and the editor-in-chief, the writing of copy and caption to be given to the copy manager for revising, and the assignment of necessary pictures to be scheduled with the managing editor and photographers were duties required by each section editor. Everyone joined to help those whose sections were soon to be mailed to the printers. Even though one could hear remarks such as, "Oh, it's still only 7:30 a.m.!" or "Why did I get up this morning?," members were helping others as well as finishing their own sections.

With the cover and division pages first to be finished, other sections soon followed. As the fourth and final deadline drew near, tensions grew, shouting prevailed, pictures were misplaced, and copy was re-typed. With the help of Mrs. Carol Newett, faculty advisor, the 1966 Tamarack was completed with silent relief, wonderful memories, and hopeful anticipation of the new annual.

Production Staff

Judy Allbery, Peggy Henning, Alice Douglass, Judy Rowland, and Sandy Douglass, News Staff members, are looking at old Tamaracks.

Bob Warehouse, North Central News' editor-in-chief, and Tom Keel, printer, show juniors, Judy Allbery, Terry Hanson, and Peggy Henning, the print shop.

"Why is he bleeding in that corner?" "That should run into the gutter." "We've got everything put to bed." Expressions like these can be heard in Room 109, the home of the Tamarack and News staffs. Assembling the annual and newspaper, the staff members become acquainted with printing procedures and reader appeal.

Judy Hamp, Diane Brown, Pat Anderson, Pam Garinger, Rosemary Goerz, and Carol Austed invite all to buy a 1966 Tamarack during the Tamarack Con.

Carol Altenburg, Vicki Wolfrum, and Elaine Rounds, junior members on the Tamarack Staff, are busy indexing the activities section.

Work

Looking over the 1966 Tamarack cover when the staff came to school on Saturday are Carol Austed, Rosemary Goerz, Diane Brown, Fran Othmer, Mardi Boswell, and Mrs. Newett, advisor.

Distributing Tamaracks to homerooms on Tamarack Day is Tom Barry. His muscles give out, and they fall to the floor and scatter while Tom seems quite amused at his clumsiness.

Browsing over the other annuals at Pischel Printing, Inc., are Audrey Brooks, Fran Othmer, Rick Henson, Jennifer Watts, Rosemary Goerz, Patsy Liddell, Judy Hamp, Don Puddy, Phil Huey, Tom Barry and Pat Anderson.

Staff Records School Events

North Central News Staff has the responsibility of publishing the North Central News. Planning layouts, scheduling pictures, reading galley and paging proofs, meeting deadlines, and writing news and feature articles are the tasks of the staff. By publishing the North Central News eighteen times yearly, the News Staff keeps the school informed about events — past, present, and future. During homeroom on Friday mornings, newspapers are distributed and are soon read from front to back. All news stories must be written and handed in by Thursday, a week before the publication goes to press, and feature articles are due on Wednesday of the week of publication.

Clubs Vie for Award

This year, as in the past, a service award was presented to the club at North Central that performed the most service for our school and community. There was a great deal of anxiety just before the presentation of this award at the spring awards' convocation. As the time drew near for the announcement, the presidents of the various clubs vied strenuously for the award.

Jane Vaughan, Mike Wickstead, Patty McLaughlin, Connie Montgomery and Colleen Day discuss the club which will receive the service award.

Biology Club Sells Mistletoe

Kathy Juhnke and Katie Stotts have just sold some mistletoe to Mr. Russell.

Field trips constitute much of the main activity of Biology Club and also help raise the interest of its members in the scientific field, which is the main purpose of this club.

A trip to visit the Washington State University Open House in the spring was partly financed by the selling of mistletoe. Biology Club also operated the Panda Toss at the North Central Carnival this past year.

Mrs. Esther Lancaster guided the club throughout the year.

Cercle Stuffs Animals

Since Cercle de Menage was organized in 1959, it has endeavored to promote broader interest in all fields of homemaking and to serve North Central in whatever capacity possible.

Any girl who has taken a course in Home Economics, with a 2.0 or better grade point average, is eligible for membership.

By trying to fulfill its pledge of serving North Central and the community, Cercle has accomplished much under the guidance of Miss Elizabeth Killingsworth.

In an attempt to promote school spirit, Cercle made fight ribbons, Smoke Signals, which were sold during the football season. They also made stuffed animals which were sent to South Viet Nam by the Red Cross.

Along with serving the school, they have tried to add some spice to the club. They had a foreign buffet, slumber party for new initiates, had a booth at the N.C. Carnival and attended Washington State University to visit the Home Economics center.

Gayle Northcutt, Peggy Henning, and Linda Nicholson are busy preparing for the Cercle open house.

Commercial Club

Members of Commercial Club carried on projects throughout the year which increased interest in business education and gave insight into careers in the business world.

Students who have completed one semester in a business subject and have earned at least a 2.5 grade point average are eligible for membership in this club.

Working at the switchboard in the student office every night after school is one way in which members served the school. Several of the members also took turns supervising the typing room after school. At the ASB Carnival they sponsored the assorted animal wheel.

Every year pins are awarded by the club for winners of the typing contest. They must type 60, 50, or 40 words per minute.

Faculty advisor for the club was Mrs. Mary York.

FNA Serves St. Luke's

Future Nurses of America was organized for girls who are interested in nursing as a career. The girls must be sophomores, juniors, or seniors, and must maintain a C-plus grade point average.

A certain number of girls worked at St. Luke's Hospital each week as a part of the club's activities. The club had other various activities and money raising projects this year too. Some of these included the balloon dart booth at the carnival, caroling at the hospital and making toys for the children at Christmas, and touring different places which are related to nursing.

The advisor of the club was Mrs. Vivian Hager and the Alumni advisor from St. Luke's was Mrs. McAllister.

FTA Raises Scholarship

Many North Central students who want to learn more about teaching as a profession join the Spokane Garry Chapter of the Future Teachers of America. To promote further interest in teaching as a profession and to show the advantages and disadvantages of teaching are the purpose of F.T.A.

The club sent three people to the Eastern Washington Regional meeting in Walla Walla in October. On November 12, all senior members visited elementary, junior or senior high schools to observe. F.T.A. had two "Red and Black" licorice sales to earn money for their annual $100 scholarship given to a senior member. The club helped Judy Hamp, district coordinator, with the Washington State Northeast District Conference at Whitworth College on March 26, and on April 20 the F.T.A. sponsored the second annual Student-Teacher Day.

Judy Hamp led the club during the fall semester while Ray Stradley was the spring semester president. Mrs. Dorothy Congdon and Mrs. Carol Huff are the club advisors.

Talking as usual, FTA members are gathered at a dinner before the installation of their officers.

International Club Busy Group

International Club, composed of the German, French and Spanish components of our foreign languages, promoted further interest in the foreign language field throughout the year.

At the beginning of the year the constitution was revised in favor of a stronger constitution and more club unity.

Mr. Mashoko Chenhenzwah, Rhodesian pre-med student at Gonzaga University, spoke to the club members on Rhodesian world problems, life and education. A Spanish pinata party was held at Christmas as well as International Club's traditional basketball game with Latin Club. In the spring, the annual International Club picnic was held.

The club was guided throughout the year by Mrs. Carol Newett, faculty advisor.

Key Club Collects Food

Key Club, the boys' service club at North Central, serves not only the school but the community as well. It is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

The club, winner of last year's service award, ushers for all school convocations and takes tickets at most athletic events. This year they set up and dismantled all booths at the school carnival. Key Club helped the community by helping in the March of Dimes drive, the Diabetic Society, and Goodwill Industries.

Membership is open to junior and senior boys with a 3.0 grade point average. Key Club requires good character, leadership ability, interest in service, good citizenship, and approval by principal.

Latin Club

Holds Banquet

Senatus Populusque Romanus or the Senate and the Roman People is the proper name for what is commonly known as Latin Club. The officers are two equal Consuls, a Scriptor (secretary), a Quaestor, (treasurer), and Centurio Praetorius (fifth executive). SPQR requires a 2.5 grade average and a year or more of Latin.

SPQR had a candy sale to earn money for two book scholarships given to senior members who plan on going to college. In November the annual Senate meeting was held following a potluck dinner. Before Christmas vacation Latin Club played their annual basketball game with International Club and came out the victors. In March the traditional Roman banquet was held with members dressed in togas and Roman food served.

Faculty supervisor was Mrs. Laura Lee Briscoe.

Quill and Scroll Sells Suckers

The Edward R. Murrow chapter of Quill and Scroll sponsored the sale of plastic Tamarack covers and "lick 'em" suckers this past year.

Membership is open to outstanding junior and senior students on the Tamarack and News staffs who rank scholastically in the upper third of their class. A banquet in the spring, a formal initiation for all city members and a grant of a college scholastic fee were offered to all Quill and Scroll members.

Talent Club Shows Skills

One of the oldest clubs at North Central, Tau Chi gave talented students an opportunity to gain experience in the field of entertainment. Their purpose was to furnish talent for outside organizations throughout the school year. Performing for various clubs, small organizations, and Masonic Temple groups has kept the club active this year.

Talent ranged from a classical piano solo to a trained dog routine. Assisted by the Tau Chi band, the N.C. majorettes have given many performances. Dancers and singers have also taken their places before the footlights to fulfill a club requirement of one performance each semester for every member.

Membership in Tau Chi was chosen through auditions each semester. Requirements included a 2.5 grade point average, suitable talent, and willingness to give of time and talents to the club. Mr. Dan Davis, advisor for the club, was invaluable in organizing many programs.

The National Thespian Society of North Central was organized to promote interest and skill in dramatics. Members participate in school plays and other dramatic productions.

Thespians planned a series of one-act plays for the English Department and some for the student body.

Membership in Thespians was more than doubled after the cast of the All-School play, "Dino", was included in the club. At least one representative of the club is expected to attend the annual National Thespian Society's convention in Portland, Oregon, this summer.

Vox Puellarum Serves School

Vox Puellarum, under the sponsorship of the Soroptimist Women, emphasizes service to the community and school.

It is one of the most active clubs at North Central. Serving lunch every Saturday at the Senior Citizens' Center, making Advent calendars at Christmas time, cleaning the North Side Branch YMCA and running two concessions at the North Central Carnival were just a few of the many activities carried on by this club.

For just plain fun, Vox Puellarum members had a joint Christmas Party with Key Club this past year.

To become a member of Vox Puellarum, a girl must have a 2.8 grade point average, be a sophomore, junior, or senior girl and pass a test on community affairs, Soroptimist Club of Spokane, and school life.

This year the club was under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Peck.

Warriors Buy Equipment

Warriors, North Central Boys' athletic club, is open to all boys who have received a major athletic award in a varsity sport.

As a money making project, Warriors had a "con" and a wrestling "smoker" and sold refreshments at North Central's home football games. The money earned from these projects was spent on athletic equipment to be given to the school.

Recognition was given to the year's outstanding athletes at the annual sports' banquet. Rick Giampietri led Warriors during the fall semester. The coaches advised North Central's athletic club during the past year.

At the Warriors' concession hungry appetites are satisfied.

"Buffalo eyes??? M-m-m good!" says Bob Rockser at Warriors' initiation.

Art and Chess Clubs Popular

Since the main goal of Art Club is to promote the fine arts, the club made many visits to the Cheney Cowles Museum to art shows. This year, as in the past, the club operated "The Place" at the ASB Carnival. A cupcake sale was held a week before Christmas to raise funds for a visit to the Seattle Art Museum in the spring. They also had a Christmas party during the Christmas vacation.

Many of their activities were held at the home of Mrs. Barbara Eddy, advisor.

The main purpose of Chess Club is to provide an opportunity for chess competition. Tournaments were played with other schools after competition among North Central's own members. Other strategy games were added as funds were available.

The club, under sponsorship of Mr. Dan Olson, tripled its size over past years and promises to continue to grow.

DECA and Library Club

Distributive Education is an organization which offers the opportunity to learn while you earn.

Colleen Duffy was elected governor of the class and represented North Central at the Governor's Conference in Olympia, Washington.

Ten members competed in the annual Leadership Conference held in the spring. DECA members honored their employers at the annual Employer-Employee All-City Banquet in the first part of May.

In 1961, a new library club was organized by Mrs. Lillian Barnes to clarify the work of the library student assistant. A book study group joined with the Library Club in 1963 to be called the Amores Librorum.

Each member worked one or more hours each day to receive points for an assigned task. The library duties were rotated among the members. Award pins were received in the spring.

Math and Rifle Clubs Active

Math Club, new at NC this year, was created to promote an interest in higher mathematics and careers involving mathematics. Members must be currently enrolled in Honors Geometry, Intermediate or Advanced Math and have a 3.0 grade point average.

The president is known as Omnivac, the vice-president as Univac, the secretary as a Data Processor, and the treasurer as Statistical Analyst. Mr. Gerald Cunningham was the advisor.

In its second year at North Central, the Rifle Club membership was promising. The members continued to learn more about the art of marksmanship. Mr. Herbert Russell, who is an excellent marksman, was the faculty advisor for the club this year.

We, too, appreciate the gifts of musical, artistic, and dramatic expression and spend much time cultivating these skills.

Specialty Groups Popular

Performances of popular vocal selections at various school and civic functions has made this group well known throughout the city. They met Tuesday and Thursdays after school. Composed of students who were interested in music and willing to work for the fun of it, the Teepee Lighters received much acclaim.

"Sing Out" might be the motto of the N.C. Folk Group. Meeting Mondays and Wednesdays, they practiced for their many performances around the Spokane area. The group sang music that told the story of America as the people who built our country saw it.

Performances Keep Choir Busy

Under the able direction of Mr. Caldwell, practices for their many concerts kept the choir busy during second period class. Their appearances varied from special holiday cons to downtown luncheon performances. Their repertoire covered a wide field, from classical sonatas of old masters to the compositions of our most contemporary composers.

Highlights of this year were a KREM radio broadcast of a combination band and choir Thanksgiving con, and a trip to Tacoma, Washington.

"One — two — ! Buckle your shoe. Three — four — ! Tune up more." Mr. Caldwell admonishes the choir.

Symphonic in British

"Special" described the activities of this year's Symphonic Band. First was a Choral-Band presentation of "I Am An American" for the Thanksgiving Con and radio broadcast. Next came a concert with nationally famous special guest artist, Paul Tanner. Then they visited Summerland, British Columbia, where they presented two programs, one for the students and one for the community.

Hard work and mental discipline were required to be "tops" in this area. It took more than talent to present an interesting show, it took showmanship, and for this quality, the band always strived.

Paul Kingsley, Geoff Wickstead, Jim Griffith, and Steve Bishop seem to be enjoying the action on stage during a pep con.

Discipline for breaking band rules was established by band officers. Punishment for offenses ranged from a nickel fine for chewing gum to expulsion for smoking in uniform. Travel arrangements, finances, and uniforms were also handled by the officers.

Mr. A. G. Tiemann directed the band, aided by Mr. M. W. Caldwell in sectional rehearsal.

Music Students Learn Academic Back

"I'm sure that the freshmen we get today are far more knowledgeable than when I was in school," stated Dr. Karl D. Ernst, chairman of the division of creative arts at California State College, Hayward, California, at Washington State Music Educators' Conference in Spokane. But he added that the position music enjoys in schools today is threatened by more concentration in other fields.

He said there is an attitude in schools that reduces music education to an elective status that serves only a small percentage of students.

North Central has fortunately had a large proportion of students interested in music. Perhaps because rehearsal time was not only devoted to learning parts but also to explaining music history or style.

ound and More Effective Techniques

The importance of music in the lives of the students has also been stressed by our directors, Mr. Tiemann and Mr. Caldwell.

Students were drilled on academic background as well as techniques so that they recognized a fugue, a canon, or a sonata.

Technical performance is at such a high level in America that European nations and Australia are calling upon American educators to help them in the development of more effective techniques.

However, we have much to learn from them when it comes to the development of the culture behind the world's music.

This has been the theory behind the hard work of Mr. A. G. Tiemann and Mr. Michael Caldwell, North Central's band and choir conductors respectively.

World renowned trombonist, Mr. Paul Tanner presented four of his original numbers with North Central's Symphonic Band. Mr. Tanner with members of area schools formed a trombone choir and also played a duet with Mr. Jon Nicholson of Gonzaga. Member of the Academic Faculty of UCLA, Mr. Tanner has also appeared on various TV shows and is first trombonist of the American Broadcasting Co.

Mr. A. G. Tiemann concentrates on the "big sound" in instructing the North Central dance band. Desiring the solid beat of such greats as Glenn Miller and Count Basie, Mr. Tiemann rehearses his group each day. Ability is being demonstrated by the evident popularity of this group.

Varsity Members

Varsity football, as any sport, allows boys an excellent opportunity to compete with each other. It prepares them for the competitive world which they will have to face in the future years. At the same time, they learn the importance of good sportsmanship, both on and off the field. It teaches them the importance of a healthy body, and how to use their minds quickly, precisely, and to the best advantage. All of these things, and also the ability to work as a team, prepares the athlete of today for his life in the future.

Coached by Ed Kretz, Blaine Bennett and Leslie Hogan, the Indians finished the year in third place with three wins, five losses and one tie for their season's record. Beginning the season in a game with Lewis and Clark and playing all the teams but Shadle twice, it proved to be a difficult league. Determination, courage and the will-to-win were the feelings shown by this year's squad. They went into every game ready to make an all-out effort to uphold North Central's name. They fought each game like true warriors. Once more they played in the annual Shriners' Game at the stadium against Rogers, defeating them 19 to 7. Although the team placed third, the coaches were not disappointed in the team and are looking forward to a more successful year with next year's varsity gridders. The coaches start looking for these future warriors during the summer training, which is when they get ready for the coming season of play.

Thrilling Season End

At the annual Sports Award Banquet at North Central, many of the football players received their first, second, and third letter awards for playing in the varsity games of the season. Among the boys receiving their second year awards were Captain David Neff, Rick Giampietri, Mike Magers and Gary Bursch. Third year award went to Jon Chastain, who also was placed on the All-City football team which is made up of outstanding players of all the city teams. Many of the first year lettermen will be trying for their second year award next season.

During the year, an Apache was given to Gary Neiswender for an outstanding play against the opposition. Three years ago, Coach Kretz started this honor program. It is used to build team spirit and drive. After the Apache insignia is awarded, the proud recipient places it on the side of his helmet and wears it in all following varsity games.

Although not all of the boys on the varsity football squad received awards this year, many Juniors and Sophomores will have a chance next year to win recognition. Those who did not win awards received the honor of playing on the varsity team. They played the best they could, and that is all the coaches asked.

Hard Work Pays Dividends

Being on the B-squad team teaches the boys how to be good sportsmen, while it furthers their knowledge of the game's fundamentals. The varsity coaches watch these boys very closely and try to find the ones that show the most promise as future varsity players. If the boys are not chosen for the varsity team, they have still had the benefit of being a part of this organization.

During the year they play other B-squad teams throughout the city. The Braves finished the season with a record of three wins and five losses, placing 6th in the city. Outstanding players for the Braves were Dave Nyberg, quarterback; Kim Delong, end; and Eric Davis, end. These boys, plus many others, also received their letter awards for being on the team. Coach Hannan was looking forward to next year's team and perhaps a better season.

The Frosh football team is made up of boys who have plans for football in their later years of high school. It helps to prepare them mentally and physically for B-squad and varsity football. The boys learn to block and tackle with authority which Coach Bill Diedrick thinks are important factors for a good team. They played only four games, taking games from LC (7-0), and Ferris (20-7), and losing to Rogers (19-7), and Gonzaga (13-0). The Gonzaga game was considered the worst defeat because of injuries to key men in the previous game. Some of the starting boys Coach Diedrick considered outstanding were Ross Rhodes, half-back; Rick Bradford, center; and Rick Daugherty, end. Coach Diedrick feels the experience gained throughout the season will greatly benefit the boys when they play varsity ball.

Hard Work Builds Cross Country Runners

Miles of hard work and pure dedication developed North Central's Cross Country team this year. Coached by Gene Lister, with Dale Blair's assistance, the boys worked out in all types of weather. This year's team was led by seniors Roger Smith, Randy Naylor, Russ Oslund, Bob Rockser, Terry Shafer, Tom Vaughn, Ralph Radmer, Eugene Graham, Bob Duprie, Bob Lee, Ben Hayden, Al Strom, Jack Ashlock, and John Munyan, with underclassmen Bill Daley, Charlie Greenwood, Roger Naylor, Terry Mattix, and Rick Welsh backing the team for future years.

Jim Daly is caught serving to one of his weaker opponents.

Led by the top performers in the city, Jack Fournier and Jim Daly, the North Central tennis squad came out with its second straight city championship. Coach Ron Walker was very pleased with the fall season, and is looking forward to an equally successful spring season.

Along with the two city champions, ten boys are returning for more action. They are Dennis Duehning, Les Smith, Mickey Nyreen, Dale Sekijima, Dave Westfall, Greg Hendrickson, Al Hanson, Brian Simpson, Wes Johnson, and Dan Mitchell.

B-Squad Takes Championship

Our B-Squad Basketball team of 1965-66 had an outstanding year. With a league record of 15 wins and three losses the team placed first, undisputed, for the first time in recent history of B-squad action. Coach Hannan felt the reasons for such a victory were good team discipline, hard work, and with only ten boys on the squad, working together on the court as a team. Mr. Hannan was sure that these boys were looking eagerly forward to their varsity year of basketball.

Boys of the Freshman basketball team learn the fundamentals of basketball. They first learn how to control the ball, shoot the ball from different positions on the court and how to work as a team. Even though they played under a handicap because of a mixup of coaches, the boys ended the season and had a league record of three wins and nine losses. The boys have to wait a long time for their chance to play on the varsity team and they look forward with anticipation to when they can play against the best the other schools have to offer.

Wrestlers Work Towards State

Leslie Hogan
Coach

Staging a strong comeback after losing their first three matches, the Indian matmen ended the season with a record of five wins and three losses, in a third place tie with Ferris. Three North Central wrestlers placed well at the district matches, and in so doing, earned a trip to the state matches in Ellensburg. These were Rick Giampietri, Mike Sharpe, and Steve Saruwatari.

The members of the team devoted themselves to their wrestling. For two hours a day, six days a week, the boys dedicated themselves, always trying to achieve the point of perfection.

Athletes Receive Awards in Spring Con

Special awards seemed to be limited to a few wrestlers this year. Three wrestlers participated in state competition. They were Steve Saruwatari, Mike Sharpe, and Rick Giampeitri. At a special awards' convocation late in March, awards voted on by the team were presented to the winners. Rick Giampeitri received the captain's award, the Mr. Hustle trophy, and was best wrestler from advantage position. Gary Bursch was best from a neutral position, and Ben Hayden was best from a disadvantage position.

Upcoming Talent Shows Outstanding Ability

Meeting their challengers prepared, both mentally and physically was the challenge of the B-squad and Frosh grapplers. Hard work and dedicated spirit led the team through the year. All of the boys were working for a spot on the varsity team. A few of the boys showed exceptional talent and could be a serious threat to those boys already on the varsity.

Coached by Blaine Bennett and Les Hogan, the combined B-squad and Frosh team had a highly successful season. They won most of their matches, showing us what we can expect in the future. Coach Bennett feels that the squad worked harder and was more dedicated than any other squad he has coached.

Golf Squad Works Hard As Swim Team Makes Debut

In an attempt to bring back a long forgotten sport at North Central in 1966, swimming was re-established. Under the firm coaching of William Diedrick, the swimmers, although winless in five meets, had a successful season, with one member of the team, John Johnson, going to the state meet in Seattle.

After a fairly successful fall season, the boys' golf team is looking forward to the spring season. Coach Simonson, stated that the boys would play a total of ten matches, winding up with the Inland Empire tournament in which all the teams from the Spokanc area compete.

North Central's Cinder Men Aim for State

This year's track team, under the able direction of Coach Eugene Lister and Dale Blair, practiced long and hard in an attempt to secure the city track title for North Central. Hard work and dedication, as with all sports, was the key to success. Led by Terry Schafer, Mike Sharpe and Russ Oslund, the track team looked forward to a winning season. Although the above mentioned boys were the most outstanding, team work was constantly emphasized by Coach Lister. The team waited eagerly for its five City League opponents, the district meets at West Valley and to climax the season, the State meet at Pullman.

Color Added by Performers

Both majorettes and marching units agreed that it takes team work to get things done. The majorettes were an important part of the half-time stunts performed by the band and marching units. Besides the numerous performances during football season, the majorettes displayed their skill and imagination in the annual Red Feather con. In the spring, they led the NC marching band and pep units in the Lilac Parade.

In order to qualify, a Red Feather or Color Girl must be in good standing which means no grade below a C. She also must have imagination, gracefulness, and resourcefulness.

This year the majorettes made several appearances at the Masonic Temple, and the Ridpath Hotel. They were in a variety show at Eastern State Hospital and at the March of Dimes Marathon.

Looking back over the events of the year, we, the cheerleaders, have many precious memories. We got to know each other better as we had regular practices during the summer. We'll never forget the Big and Little Sister Party because that was the first time we had ever cheered in front of an audience. We all had lumps in our throats as the band played "Red and Black."

The crazy car caravan we had for the first football game was another memorable event for us. The horn of the car behind us got stuck on the way to the stadium, and we laughed and yelled all the way.

Before the Shrine game, we all visited the Shriner's Hospital for crippled children. Our visit made us thankful for the wonderful job the Shriners and the hospital staff are doing to help the little children. We were also made aware of how lucky we are to be strong and healthy. Then the exciting football season came to an end.

Spring sports were great fun sitting out in the sun at the baseball games and the track meets. But now it is all in the past. It is now time for a new group of cheerleaders to make their own memories. We only hope theirs will be as wonderful as ours.

Red Feathers Spirited

Red Feathers is an honor marching unit and pep club composed of about eighty girls. They support the Indians in both fall and spring sports. Football, basketball, and wrestling seem to rate highest with the girls.

The Red Feathers served the school and community this year by helping a family at Thanksgiving, being usherettes for concerts, P.T.A., the school play and stadium events, and by giving their support and boundless school spirit to the teams. They also performed stunts at halftime during football games and marched in spring parades.

This group really cared about its school and represented it favorably. Many days were spent marching in "knee-deep" mud in preparation for half-time stunts, and more precious hours were spent in devoted team support. The Red Feathers were and are proud of North Central.

Any girl wishing to join the Color Girls is invited to try out. Members are chosen by the girls' physical education teachers, Mrs. Linda Bruns and Miss Kay Selde, according to their grade point average, citizenship record and ability to march.

These girls attend all sporting events, which include varsity football and basketball games, wrestling matches, track meets and spring sports.

Frosh and B-squad cheerleaders are selected from this group. Because Color Girls is a stepping stone to other various honor units, members work hard to keep high grades and develop leadership ability.

Varsity tennis, coached by Mrs. Lucile Lill, was limited to nine members. Competition for top positions was keen with the girls practicing three nights a week and many weekends. A B-squad was established to help the netters have more competition between themselves.

Girls' golf was another challenging and competitive sport. It was under the direction of Mrs. Linda Bruns. Spokane Park Department allowed members to play free twice a week on any city golf course.

Many girls were attracted to participate in gymnastics, an after school sport, coached by Miss Kay Selde.
